Product Description

For ice cubes, FROID is definitely one of the most spectacular (and coolest) places to stay, only to finally be sunk in style a little later in a Negroni or Dry Martini. No question, crushed ice also bridges the waiting time in the double-walled ice container impeccably before it is allowed to take a tingling bath in the classic mojito. With just one finger in the circular opening, the lid is easily removed without any effort and the way is already clear for another cool down.

Caution. Not suitable for children under 36 months.
