Product Description

As soon as these three indispensable utilities enter the desk stage, a slight murmur goes through the office. The edge-to-edge design of the solid lids - in combination with the high-gloss silver finish and the black base - not only makes architects' hearts beat faster, every boss appreciates them. Hole punch, stapler and tape dispenser, all three stand for straightforwardness and honesty, without ifs and buts. Rarely can the small necessities of everyday office life be performed with such stylistic confidence.

Attention! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
