Product Description

This NeXtime "William" wall clock is designed with stunning moving gears. The style and the size of it (50 cm) makes this clock a real centrepiece. The black colour roman index (printed on the glass lens) and the same colour hands give a clear contrast with the off white colour dial behind that makes it very easy to read time from a distance. The moving gears are separately controlled from the clock and can be easily switched off. This clock runs on 3x AA battery (not included).
