Product Description

The single teapot warmer is the youngest member of the CUBO family. It is also the smallest and most compact, which is why it fits easily into a drawer when not in use. Its matt powder-coated steel frame is of such simple elegance that, in addition to its main task of keeping drinks warm, it also cuts a pretty figure on the table as a lantern without a pot. The tealight holder is magnetic - therefore the frame can also be turned around or hung on the wall and the holder repositioned as desired.

Caution! Not suitable for children under 36 months.
