Product Description

Description A sustainable, Danish-made set consisting of two plates from the Dinnertime range in the Tiny line from dantoy. The plates have a high, straight edge that helps the child to scoop food onto the spoon. This trains the child's fine motor skills. This tableware set can be easily extended with other pieces from the Dinnertime range, which are suitable for different meals and allow for beautiful colour combinations and additional tableware. This crockery set has a long lifespan as it can be used from the first meal and can be adapted according to the child's developing skills and motor skills. This plate set is a dantoy crockery set made in Denmark from recyclable bioplastic. The set consists of 2 plates in pretty, natural Tiny colours. The sustainable and high-quality plates from the Danish brand dantoy create a basis for good meals where children can learn about food and develop their fine motor skills. Combine different sets and colours from the Dinnertime range to create a beautiful selection for your home.
