Product Description

You'll be thrilled with our lightweight all-rounder, especially if conventional cycling helmets are too bulky for you. With its sporty shape and slim lines, the KED® SPIRI also looks good on smaller heads. It is one of the MTB helmets with the best ventilation values and with a weight of 290 g (size M) it is also one of the lightest in the off-road sector. The additional lower shell makes the SPIRI particularly robust in handling. Made in Germany and well thought out down to the last detail.
